New Bible Commentary.

Now ready, Part 1, price 7d.

The New Testament Commentary

FOR ENGLISH READERS.

Edited by C. J. ELLICOTT, D.D., Lord Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol.

EXTRACT FROM PROSPECTUS.

"The present Commentary may in many respects claim to be considered as new in its design and construction, and as an attempt to supply a want which has been generally seriously felt by ecclesiastics readers of the Bible.

"We have at present a large number of a family stamp, each of which addresses itself especially to the young, the learning, those of cultivated intellect, or those who study the Holy Scriptures to the exclusion of almost every other kind of reading. Each of these has its advantages, and has found them to be; but a feeling there is by many that a full and knowing, and believing, and to be able intelligently to apply them to other daily wants and circumstances of life, are more to be desired. The class for whom this work is to be read the Holy Scriptures, in their original languages, and to whom the more valuable commentaries, based on the original text, published in quarterly and heavy, are unwieldy and inaccessible."

"We must heartily congratulate Bishop Ellicott on the success of his former labours."—Guardian.

"Never before was so much and been rendered to biblical students."—Saturday Review.

"A greater boon to students of the New Testament in this Commentary."—Record.

"Never before was so much and been rendered to biblical students."—Saturday Review.

"A greater boon to students of the New Testament in this Commentary."—Record.

"A greater boon to students of the New Testament in this Commentary."—Record.

"A greater boon to students of the New Testament in this Commentary."—*Record